If all you were going to do was slap MS on the wrist, why did you even bother taking them to court in the first place. Forcing MS to act the way it should have acted all along is NOT a remedy. Breaking the law usually involves PUNISHMENT! Fines, jail time, community service, etc. MS got away with murder, and the federal government of the most powerful country in the world simply says: "Keep your illegally gained profits, keep your illegally gained market share and customer base, but don't do anything illegal again." This is crap!!! Thieves don't get to keep their loot; they give it back then they go to jail. Have you forgotten how criminals are supposed to be treated?
